One of the largest delegations of war veterans, from Bayshore and Brisbane, ever to congregate together in a joint celebration is expected to attend the veterans picnic and barbecue, Sunday, September 12, at Oak Cove Park in San Mateo County. The entire membership of the Bayshore American Legion and of the Brisbane Veterans plan to attend, as well as do many others who are not members of either organization.

PICNIC AND BARBECUE

The affair will be in the form of a basket picnic with free barbecue for all. Several hundred pounds of the finest barbecue beef obtainable will be on hand early in the morning to await preparation by the barbecue expert.

Picnic baskets should be brought by all who come, as the only free eats will be the barbecue.

A valuable gate prize will be given away as part of the program.

CARAVAN TO FORM

At 9.30 a. m. a caravan will form at Bayshore and proceed as a body to the grounds. Brisbane cars will drive to Bayshore so that they may leave from there.

Transportation will be available for all ticket holders who have no cars of their own. If you have no way to go, and have a ticket, just be sure to be in Bayshore before 9.30 a. m. as the caravan intends to start promptly at that time.

ENTERTAINMENT FURNISHED

Dancing, of course, will be a big feature of the day with music furnished by Duke's orchestra from Dick's Tower. All of the entertainers from Dick's Tower will also be on hand to add to the features.

Games, refreshments and carnival concessions will also add greatly to the good times of the day.

If you don't want to miss a good time be sure to join in with the veterans Sunday, September 12, at Oak Cove Park.

PREVENTORIUM IN APPEAL FOR NEEDED FUNDS

Chairman And Captains Named For Campaign For Solicitation Of Money To Carry On

The San Mateo County Board of Supervisors having by proclamation officially called attention to the San Mateo Preventorium's drive for $10,000, which opens September 15 and ends September 28, community leaders throughout the peninsula are preparing to aid the cause.

Captain Edward Macauley has been named chairman of the drive. In assuming the chairmanship, he said:

"The Preventorium is a splendid organization and well worthy of our support. I shall be glad to be of assistance in this drive for much needed funds to carry on the Preventorium work."

Meanwhile the business of organizing Preventorium drive forces throughout the county is being given serious consideration.

Robert Koshland, Hillsborough, was named vice chairman of the drive, while the following persons were named captains in their respective districts:

J. T. Delaney, San Mateo; J. D. Bromfield, Burlingame, J. E. Morrish, Redwood City, T. L. Carter, Halfmoon Bay, and Mrs. H. A. Luther, Belmont.

Colonels in the Daly City, Colma and South San Francisco area, which will be combined, and the Hillsborough and Atherton sections are yet to be named.

The San Mateo Preventorium, a home institution where children of the needy can receive preventative medical treatment against tuberculosis, has saved hundreds of children from the dreaded disease.

FIVE PERSONS IN CARS SUFFER SERIOUS HURTS

Machine Hits One Auto And Bounces Off To Strike Another Machine

Five persons suffered serious injuries, early Monday morning of this week, on the Bayshore Highway opposite the entrance road to Brisbane.

It is alleged that James A. Gidney, aged 44, of Daly City, was the driver of an automobile which assertedly smashed into one machine and then careened and struck another car.

Gidney first hit the car of Frederick W. Bonse, of San Francisco, then bounced into the machine of Robert Natalie, 62, San Francisco.

Serious injuries were sustained by Mrs. Natalie Healey, 59, of 3233 Anza street, San Francisco, and her daughter, Mrs. Natalie Everett, 7615 Geary street, San Francisco. Both were taken to St. Luke's Hospital.

Minor injuries were suffered by Gidney; Frederick W. Bonse, 1117 York street, San Francisco, and Robert Healey, husband of Mrs. Healey.

Gidney was held under $1000 bond on a felony charge of drunken and reckless driving.

TWO ACCIDENTS ON PENINSULA CAUSE DEATHS

Lives Of Five Snuffed Out—Others Involved Are Seriously Injured

Mrs. Margaret Durney, 65, Mrs. Marie Downing, 26, her daughter, and Charles Durney, 16, all of San Jose, met death in a Bayshore Highway crash at Burlingame during last weekend.

Their car was involved in a crash with a machine driven by Matt Nischke, 23, of Sunnyvale.

In another Bayshore Highway accident at San Carlos Mr. and Mrs. John Borovkoff of 1190 De Haro street, San Francisco, were killed and their young son George, aged 7, was seriously injured.

TWO ARE ARRESTED

Two were placed under arrest as a result of the fatal accident. Matt Nischke, 23, of Sunnyvale, was charged with manslaughter in the crash that killed three members of the Durney family at Burlingame. Steve Sloboff, 1110, 23rd street, San Francisco, was charged with negligent homicide in the Borovkoff accident. The latter prisoner was reported seriously injured in the accident, and is at the Mills Memorial Hospital.

150th ANNIVERSARY of THE CONSTITUTION

BY THE PRESIDENT OF THE UNITED STATES OF AMERICA

A PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS the Constitution of the United States was signed on September 17, 1787, and had by June 21, 1788, been ratified by the necessary number of States and,

WHEREAS George Washington was inaugurated as the first President of the United States on April 30, 1789,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, FRANKLIN D. ROOSEVELT, President of the United States of America, hereby designate the period from September 17, 1937, to April 30, 1939, as one of commemoration of the one hundred and fiftieth anniversary of the signing and the ratification of the Constitution and of the inauguration of the first President under that Constitution.

In commemorating this period we shall affirm our debt to those who ordained and established the Constitution "in Order to form a more perfect Union, establish Justice, insure domestic Tranquility, provide for the common defence, promote the general Welfare, and secure the Blessings of Liberty to ourselves and our Posterity."

We shall recognize that the Constitution is an enduring instrument fit for the governing of a far-flung population of more than one hundred and thirty million, engaged in diverse and varied pursuits, even as it was fit for the governing of a small agrarian Nation of less than four million.

It is therefore appropriate that in the period herein set apart we shall think afresh of the founding of our Government under the Constitution, how it has served us in the past and how in the days to come its principles will guide the Nation ever forward.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the United States of America to be affixed.

DONE at the City of Washington this fourth day of July, in the year of Our Lord nineteen hundred and thirty-seven, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and sixty-second.

By the President:

Charles Clegg
SECRETARY OF STATE

Franklin D. Roosevelt

LAW VIOLATIONS ON BAY BRIDGE ARE INCREASING

An increase of 45 per cent in the number of arrests made on the San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge by the California Highway Patrol in July, as compared with June, has been reported by E. Raymond Cato, chief of the California Highway Patrol, in a monthly report to Governor Frank Merriam.

An analysis of the 391 arrests made during July follows: Drunk driving, 22; drunk in car, 6; hit and run, 1; reckless driving, 41; speeding, 199; driving on the wrong side of the road, 44; auto theft, 2; disregarding stop signs, 34; illegal parking, 3; miscellaneous, 39. In addition to the arrests made, 1164 warning tickets were handed to motorists by the patrol.

Caustic Attack On President Results In Ousting Speaker

While delivering a Labor Day address at Riverside, Calif., Monday of this week, George H. Higgins, a Los Angeles attorney, digressed to start a caustic attack on President Roosevelt and the New Deal. Incensed at the injection of political remarks, the AFL committee directing the meeting asked him to retire from the speakers stand.

He was followed immediately on the program with a warm defense of Roosevelt by Congressman Harry L. Shepperd of the Nineteenth district, who praised the President as a man who "has done more for labor than any man you ever had in the White House."

Hot Lunches Are Served At School

Mrs. Mary Richards is now serving hot lunches at the school cafeteria for pupils who wish to eat at school. She serves a very attractive and nourishing lunch at the rate of 5 cents per dish.

A goodly number of children are now taking advantage of this service and many more are expected to do so as soon as their parents learn of these excellent lunches.

ATTENDANCE AT STATE FAIR IS LARGEST EVER

Sunday Dedicated To American Legion And Educators Of California

Attendance at the California State Fair was reported to have set an all-time Sunday record at Sacramento the first day of this week, as vast throngs responded to a twofold motif—Patriotism and education.

The day was dedicated to the American Legion and the educators of California.

Interest fluctuated between drill team competitions of the overseas heroes on one side, and a State spelling bee on the other.

Educators, here from all parts of the state, forgot their dignity to stand side by side with the Legionnaires vociferously cheering the colorful marching units, who performed with military precision that brought thunderous ovations from the crowds.

The San Jose Red Devils American Legion band was the featured attraction.

STATE WANTS INFORMATION AS TO HOW MANY

Employers of California who are subject to the Unemployment Reserves Act are urged to inform the Department of Employment how many earnings report forms they will need this quarter as early as possible.

The form, DE 352A, designed as a carbon copy of the Treasury Department form SS-2A, will be placed in the mails about September 15, it has been announced.

The earnings data required on the form will be for wages paid subject employees during the months of July, August and September. This data will be used next year to compute benefits for unemployed workers.

Some time ago the department mailed 20,000 employers a short note requesting information as to the number of forms needed by each employer. Less than half of the employers in the state have replied to this inquiry.

Printing of 5,000,000 forms is under way at the present time, but the department must use "guess work" largely in mailing unless employers state now how many they will use.

Three Times, Out!

At Los Angeles, this week, a despondent man, Marsden E. Smith, decided he had nothing more to live for.

He pressed the muzzle of a revolver against his forehead and pulled the trigger. He was disappointed when nothing happened. Again he pulled the trigger, with the same result. He tried again and to his surprise the pistol discharged. He was counted out on the third try.

BAYSHORE HAS NEW TRUCK FOR FIRE FIGHTERS

Apparatus Very Modern And Adds To Efficiency Of Fire Department

Members of the Board of Fire Commissioners and the Volunteer Fire Department of the Bayshore Fire District proudly announce the acquisition of a new piece of fire apparatus, "Truck No. 2." The truck was put into the fire house two weeks ago and the department, under the direction of Acting Chief King, has had several drills and is now ready to use it in active service.

Fireman Joe Walling, who has also been mechanic for the district for many years, built the truck. He furnishes the following facts: the chassis is a 1937 model Ford V-8 truck which has a 157 inch base extended 5 feet and has rear dual wheels. It carries a 450 Barton Pump which pumps a maximum of 700 gallons of water from hydrant flow per minute. All closed compartments store equipment such as helmets, coats, shovels, etc. It is also equipped with a complete first aid kit, stretcher and blankets. Another compartment holds 1500 feet of 2½ inch line and for small grass fires a hose reel of smaller line is located directly in the rear. In addition to having these practical features, the truck is streamlined in appearance and resplendent with red paint and chrome fittings.

The directors of the district feel that the addition of this equipment to the department will bring fire fighting facilities in Bayshore up to par with any other department of its kind in the county.

PRESIDENT WILL START FOR WEST IN SHORT TIME

Will Deliver Constitution Day Address At Washington Before Leaving On Western Tour

It was announced in Washington, D. C., this week, that President Roosevelt has definitely made up his mind to start a swing through the West within a short time, unless some unforeseen incident occurs.

The President indicated nothing less serious than a new Sino-Japanese crisis will be permitted to interfere with the trip on which he hopes to start in about two weeks.

The swing west will be non-political, Mr. Roosevelt cautioned, in exactly the same sense his famed trip through the drought area during the heat of the last presidential campaign was non-political.

Elaborating his comparison of the plans for the approaching swing with the previous drought trip, he indicated he would make only informal speeches.

Before leaving for the West, however, the President will deliver a Constitution Day address from Washington on September 17, which will be broadcast nationally.

Former Deputy Files Suit Against Sheriff

The latest chapter was written, Wednesday of this week, in the row over policing of unincorporated districts in the southern section of the county.

Sheriff James J. McGrath and two deputies, Hugh Williams and Richard Arnold are confronted by a damage suit for $25,000. The suit was filed by Robert P. Dickson, manager of the Woodside patrol service and a former deputy sheriff. He alleges false arrest.

Sheriff McGrath denied an arrest had been made. He said his officers simply had disarmed Mr. Dickson on the sheriff's orders.

The sheriff had Mr. Dickson disarmed and revoked his deputy sheriff commission during the last month, charging the Woodside patrol was attempting to operate in other sections and declaring the sheriff's office was capable of maintaining the peace. Mr. Dickson denounced the sheriff's action as "politics."

Unexpired Contract Is Barring Terry From Other Offers

BILL TERRY did ask for a new contract and a raise. He told Giant officials that he had several other good offers. They informed him that they would not stand in his way of bettering himself but refused to tear up the old agreement which has another year to run. . . . Fighting Fox, two-year-old brother of Gallant Fox, is an uncle of the five-year-old Omaha and of the four-year-old Granville. . . . Harry Vardon is generally considered one of the greatest of all-time golfers yet few recall the man was one of the worst putters who ever fooled a short tap.

Sol Saperstein, who weighs 190 pounds, stands six feet four inches and is nineteen years old, will journey from his native Bronx to become a member of the University of Baltimore basketball team this year. . . . Baltimoreans insist that Pitches Vandenburg and Lohman, who will come to the Polo grounds at the end of the International league season, will be as good for the Giants as Cliff Melton has been. . . . Dixie Howell is through with baseball and has signed with Washington's pro football team. . . . The Cincinnati Red Stockings, winners of organized baseball's first pennant in 1869, and also undefeated that season, had an annual pay roll of $9,300. The season started March 15 and ended November 15. Shortstop George Wright, who died several days ago, was the highest salaried performer. He received $1,400 for the year.

Youthful clients of this department are complaining about the baseball-bat situation. They insist the big-bat manufacturers do not make proper ones for youngsters any more. Instead they try to sell major-league models which are too heavy for the average kid to swing even if he can raise the price. . . . Jackie Farrell may soon get a fall sponsor for that Jersey radio spot. . . . Julius Solters of the Indians has not been much of a success with his new club as has Vosmik for whom the Browns traded him. Players say Solters is fence shy in the field and not of the winning type and that Cleveland will probably pass him on next winter.

Cobb Was Swat Champ at Age of 21

Ty Cobb was only twenty-one years old when he won the American league batting championship in 1907.

Ty Cobb

The ages of other A. L. batting champions since then, Manush and Appling, twenty-five; Lajoie and Foxx, twenty-six; Sisler, Heilmann, Goslin, Simmons, twenty-seven; Fonseca, twenty-nine; Speaker and Ruth, thirty; Gehrig and Myer, thirty-one. Cecil Travis, the Washington youngster with the leaders now, is twenty-four.

Don't fall for any of that hokum about Pompoon being pointed for the $100,000 Santa Anita handicap. He's definitely retired, indeed recently almost passed out. . . . Did you know that Frank Moore, who is doing such a fine job as assistant to golf pro Jimmy Farrell up at Quaker Ridge, is a brother of Cards' outfielder Terry Moore?

Guys to watch this fall—Eric Tipton, Duke's triple threat fullback; Andy Bershak, rugged North Carolina end who should cause N. Y. U. no end of woe; Bud Toebe, a great kicker and fine defensive player who will return to one of the Princeton wings after a year's absence due to injuries. Merrill Davis, Dartmouth captain and end. He weighs 205 pounds and is heavyweight boxing champion up at Hanover. . . . Sad news emanating from New Haven—Merri Scott, who should have been one of the East's best tackles, has quit Yale. Gallagher, considered a sure bet to carry on where Bob Beckwith left off at center, probably will be ineligible. Several of the best hopes from a fine frosh line also should have studied harder last winter.

The name Pinelli may bob up in the major league box scores once more in five years. . . . It will be Ray Pinelli, who'll be a freshman at Notre Dame this fall. . . . Roy, an older brother at Notre Dame, is a footballer. . . . Ray is a shortstop. "He's a six-footer and can do everything," says Papa Pinelli.

NOT IN THE BOX SCORE:

CABALLERO II, the Chilean horse Hirsch Jacobs claimed for four G's at Saratoga, recently, is worth at least $40,000 to several of the more important owners. They are bidding that much now in the hope that they can use the gee gee for breed-improving purposes—Edsel Ford, the auto magnate, is almost as red hot a Tiger fan as is Joe Louis. Likes to watch home games from the high Detroit press box, too.

Joe Tinker, Jr., son of the once-famous Cubs' shortstop, is making a name for himself as a member of a Pittsburgh dance team—The late Howie Morenz was so high strung that after a hard hockey game he never even thought of going to bed. Used to walk the streets for six or seven hours instead—Amherst alumni are uttering numerous nice words about the freshman football coaching of Charley Soleau, who used to do such brilliant blocking for Andy Kerr and the Red Raiders of Colgate.

Speaking of Amherst, keep an eye on Harry Ward this fall. The blond Minnesotan weighs 220 pounds stripped, and Lloyd Jordan will be disappointed if he does not become one of the East's finest tackles. Funny things happen at the Canarsie fights every Tuesday night. Right outside the park there is a ring—the bell, win—a cigar concession. Lots of smokes must be won, too, for the bell rings frequently. Then the fighters invariably head to their corners and have to be brought back to the center by the combined warning shouts of the referee, timekeeper and crowd.

Collins in the Grease With Red Sox Fans

Red Sox Business Manager Eddie Collins, who never has been very popular with Boston fans, is in the grease worse than ever now. The reason seems to be that he ignored the Army and Navy Legion of Valor's request for 300 seats for disabled veterans at the first of those two recent double-headers with the Yankees. In spite of the club's pitiful showing, Brooklyn is making considerably more money this year than in 1936. The answer is easy. In 1936 the Dodgers were off to a poor start, even though they played the second best ball in the league after July 4. This year they were off to a fast start and were aided by superfine ballyhoo. So fans, as easily deceived by April and May flashes as they are by midwinter trades, contributed an extra hundred G's to the nice directors.

Bellhops around the American league tell you that a highly paid Yankee has carried his own baggage upstairs for the last six years so's to duck the tip—Lou Gehrig says Baron Poffenberger will amount to a helluva pitcher some day if all that name doesn't get him down—The Yankees are willing to bet that George Selkirk is the strongest man in baseball—Bill Dietrich of the White Sox once was a Philadelphia high school sprint champion—There is a rumor that Jack Collins, who has been handling Dodgers' tickets for the past several years and who represents the McKeever faction, may succeed John Gorman as business manager—Ford Frick, National league president, dotes on working anagrams.

Jim Stewart, athletic director at Southern Methodist, will bring the S. M. U. eleven north twice in 1938. . . . The Mustangs play Marquette at Soldiers' field and Pittsburgh at Pittsburgh. . . . The following season they will play Notre Dame at South Bend. . . . Once upon a time a Davis cup player received $18 a day to cover all expenses, but after several returned from trips and immediately purchased automobiles the practice was stopped. . . . The Browns have another Hornsby, no relation to Rogers, on the way. . . . He's a catcher for Palestine in the East Texas league, a Browns' farm club. . . . Bill Tilden once said: "Billy Johnston had my physique I never would have defeated him."

Trainer Dave Woodward does not allow the Green Bay Packers to drink water during practice or a game. . . . He quenches their thirst by sprinkling their mouths with ice water out of an old garden spray. . . . The Browns have another Hornsby, no relation to Rogers, on the way. . . . He's a catcher for Palestine in the East Texas league, a Browns' farm club. . . . Bill Tilden once said: "Billy Johnston had my physique I never would have defeated him."

Breed improvers, who pay thousands of dollars for yearlings each season, also ought to pay more attention to how these yearlings are reared and trained. Trainers of the rich man's stables have as many as 50 horses to handle, which is entirely too much. Why not give the young trainers a break? . . . N. Y. State Police Lift Mask from Hollywood's Wonder Man

John Montague Beat Bing Crosby at Golf Using Baseball Bat, Shovel and Rake.

By WILLIAM C. UTLEY

"SHUCKS," said Bing Crosby's burly golf partner, "I could beat you using a ball bat, a shovel and a rake!"

Now, if you have ever seen Bing Crosby play golf you will realize that this challenge would not be unlike telling Joe Louis, "I could lick you with one hand tied behind my back."

The dreamy-eyed crooner's average is about 74, which is golf of a professional caliber. The arrogant gentleman had been in the habit of "spotting" Bing a stroke on each of five holes and collecting with withering consistency.

"It's a bet," said Crosby, and it was decided to play one hole, for $200.

Bing, using the regulation bag of clubs, took two shots to the green and two putts for a perfect par four. The other party to the arrangement strode to the tee, gave his ball a little toss in the air and whaled it with a baseball bat, swinging in a manner that would have turned Babe Ruth green with envy when he was in his prime. The ball traveled 350 yards into a trap. With an ordinary shovel this remarkable athlete played an "explosion" shot to a point within eight feet of the cup. Wielding the rake like a billiard cue, he held out the "putt" for a "birdie" three.

"That," crooned Crosby, "is enough for me." He wandered uncertainly in search of the nearest psychopathic hospital, poorer by $200.

Wonder Man Shuns Publicity.

Some screwy, magnificently screwy, stories have come from Hollywood, where press agents have the imagination of an Edgar Rice Burroughs and the conscience of Baron Munchausen. But the screw-

Bing Crosby, radio and screen star, who got trimmed in the remarkable golf match, but befriended the victor in a time of need.

iest thing about this story is that it is true. It happened two years ago, and since that time John Montague or LaVerne Moore or "Bull" Moore (depending upon your point of view) has been the most talked-of man in the golfing world.

John Montague, as the film colony knows him, came to Hollywood three years ago. His ability to play golf was astounding. He was handsome in his burly way. His manners were delightful. He was chivalrous with women. He apparently had a bank roll. He had two Lincolns and a Ford. He could drink a fifth of Scotch and eight gin fizzes for breakfast and never bat an eye. Montague shunned publicity. But as Greta Garbo proved, one sure way to get into the limelight is to try to stay out of it. No one in Hollywood knew who Montague was, whence he came or where he derived his income, not even Oliver Hardy, the rotund comedian with whom the mystery man lived for a while. And apparently nobody cared.

But a man can't do the things Monty did and remain in oblivion. His feats of strength were as amazing as his golf prowess. He held up a heavy automobile while a friend changed a tire. With one hand he picked up George Bancroft, husky moving picture "heavy," and stuffed him in a locker, upside down, during a moment of horse-play. He could even lift Ollie Hardy in one hand. He ate a dozen eggs in less than half a minute. He (it was whispered) had whipped from three to six men at one time.

Drives 400 Yards. But these exploits pale beside Monty's feats on the links. He drives straight as a die, and consistently from 40 to 60 yards farther than the longest drive Bobby Jones ever made. Driving balls into a slight wind he has averaged more than 300 yards per drive. With the same slight wind in back of him, 375 to 400 yards per drive!

He seldom putts; his approach shots are so perfect they leave him putts conceded by his partners. To win a bet he drove a ball from the first tee of the Lakeside club across struck out 19 batsmen in a game. Young Moore's golf had been good enough to land him a job as a professional at the Clayton, N. Y., country club. He once had played the nine-hole municipal course at Syracuse in 28.

John Montague, strong man golfer of Hollywood, equipped with the "clubs" he used in taking a $200 golf bet from Bing Crosby.

Moore Had Police Record.

Moore had a passion for making records, and some of them were police records. He got a six-months' suspended sentence in 1927 for posing as a policeman and taking $50 from a grocer accused of selling liquor.

On the night of April 5, 1930, four young men held up a roadhouse near Jay, N. Y., taking $700 from Kin Hana, the owner. When Hana's father-in-law, Matt Cobb, objected, they gave him a vicious beating.

As the robbers made their getaway, one of their cars struck a culvert. One robber was killed. Two were captured and got 16-year prison terms. The fourth, believed to have been "Bull" Moore, disappeared.

The New York state police sent Moore's fingerprints to the Los Angeles police department. On last July 9 Hollywood's strong man was arrested in the Beverly Hills apartment which he shared with Oliver Hardy, and charged with the New York robbery. When they took him to jail he admitted that he was "Bull" Moore and that there was no longer any reason for avoiding publicity. He posed willingly for photographers, but refused to discuss the charges against him.

Arrest Shocks Hollywood.

The arrest was a bombshell to the many celebrated friends of "John Montague." To a man, they backed him. Dozens of them, all influential, wrote pleas to Gov. Frank Merriam, asking that he refuse extra-diction. Montague—or Moore—they said, had rehabilitated himself and was now an admirable citizen.

"Monty is one of the finest fellows who ever lived," said Hardy, who arranged for John's $10,000 bail, "and I'm here to do what I can for a friend." Bing Crosby said: "He's a great guy and a grand fellow. We'll all back him 100 per cent."

Among Monty's additional sponsors appeared such names as Bert Wheeler, Spencer Tracy, Charlie Chase, Guy Kibbee, Frank Craven, Andy Devine, Gene Tunney, Howard Hawks and George von Elm. Nevertheless, he went back to New York to face the music.

The one mystery none of them was ever able to solve was the origin of Monty's bank roll. He admitted he bet $200 a week on the races. He was always flashing a handful of hundred-dollar bills. Some rumors had it that he owned a gold or silver mine in the desert, to which he returned when in need of fresh capital. But anyone who ever attempted to follow him was lost in a cloud of dust.

WITH BANNERS

He dropped to his knees and touched it. Sticky! He flashed his light on it. Sniffed. Turpentine? He sank down on his heels and choked back a shout of laughter. He had been fooled by red paint.

How had it come here? What was that dark heap beyond it? Overalls! Blue denim overalls still warm from the wearer's body. The driver of the car he had heard a few moments ago must have shed them before he left the garage. Why had he worn them?

Mark projected and rejected explanations with lightning speed. The man who had shinned from the balcony had come from the room where the scenery was being painted. Wasn't the roof of the cottage on the backdrop red? Why the shower? Why the shave? Was it he who had removed the key from the door of the storeroom tonight? But that man had disappeared via the connecting door, presumably into Look-out House.

He flashed a dim light over the white cover. More red! A clumsy X. "Make X on cover when—"

The words on the scrap of paper in the storeroom were explained. "X marks the spot where the body was found."

The sentence flashed into Mark's mind as if set in electric lights. Body! Jed was missing! Perhaps his body had been dumped inside the limousine!

He set his heel on the thought. He would imagine a horror like that. That infernal cross probably meant nothing, but he'd take a look-see so that he wouldn't ask himself later, "Why didn't I?"

Soundlessly he reached the other side of the limousine. The disarranged cover which left the door exposed revealed also a license plate. All set to go! He flashed his light inside. Something long, something rounded on the rear seat was covered with an automobile robe.

Dread paralyzed Mark's hand for what seemed to him hours; then with a muttered imprecation he thrust it under the robe. The silver! Nothing but the silver! That X on the white cover was a sign that it had been moved from his house. Who had moved it? That was easy. It had been removed while he and Jed had been at the Reyburns by the man who had driven away. Sure of plenty of time he had stopped for a shower and shave. Moving the loot to the garage had been his share of the job. Would a pal appear to drive the stuff off?

"He will, and here he is!" Mark muttered, as the frosty gravel outside the garage crunched faintly.

A key in the lock! Not a minute to waste. Where should he go? Inside Brooke's town car! The breaks were with him. It wasn't locked.

The garage door was sliding back. Mark saw a patch of sky. He banged his forehead as he plunged headfirst into the sedan, and saw a million stars. His head spun as he crouched in the space left by the turned back seat and drew the door shut without latching it. He held it in place as barely breathing he listened.

Footsteps on the cement floor! Cautious footsteps. A light on the ceiling! Suppose it should flash into the town car? It had stopped. Whoever it was, was taking his time.

An engine turning over! Was some darn fool starting a car with the garage door closed? Mark raised his head turtle-fashion. No, the door was open. He might have known it. Was it likely that the bandit would allow himself to be bumped off by carbon monoxide? Not that bad boy. He had too much at stake.

He must follow. How? He couldn't trail in another car. He would be heard. Could he hang on to the empty trunk-rack? That was an idea. He would follow the limousine out of the garage, slip into the shadow of a shrub when the man went back to close the door, then grab the trunk-rack when the car started again. A stunt, but he'd make a stab at it. If he were to hold the man now he would learn nothing of his destination.

He cautiously tiptoed after the limousine. He was safe behind the shrubs when the driver returned and noiselessly closed the garage door. A soft hat was drawn low over his eyes, but Mark knew him. Henri.

He was behind the wheel again! The limousine was coasting down the incline! Mark crouched as he ran after it. As the engine started, he drew himself carefully to the trunk-rack. He barely breathed. Had the driver felt a jar? Evidently not. He was increasing speed. He was not headed for the causeway. He was going in the opposite direction. What did that mean?

After spinning past old landmarks, the car slowed down and stopped. Mark saw the white cottage. The filling-station. He must not be seen here. Surely the driver would make contact with someone inside before he left the limousine.

Henri stepped out of the car. He stopped as if to make sure he was not observed. Mark slipped off the trunk-rack. He was cramped and stiff. He hobbled rather than walked into a deep purple shadow cast by a pine. He could see the cottage. He held his breath as Henri gently turned the knob of the front door and entered. What would he do next? Come back to the limousine? What a chance to grab him!

What was he doing inside the house? He was taking his time. The door was opening again! Mark hardly breathed. A man slipped out. His hat was pulled down over his eyes. He slunk along in the shadows. Reached the shore road. Ran on the dried grass which bordered it as if pursued by furies.

Had that been Henri? Had he delivered his message? Had he been warned to beat it? Couldn't have been a fight inside. No loud voices. Had the limousine with the silver been left for someone else to drive away?

Someone else! What a break! What a break! He would drive it back and park it in his garage—no, that wouldn't do, he would leave it with Mike Cassidy. Mike was as dependable as the sun.

He stole from the shadow of the pine. With every faint crunch of his feet on the frosty ground his blood stopped running. Could he reach the limousine before someone came? Only a few feet more. He was behind the wheel. With a hand stiff from cold he touched the self-starter. Hang it! Wouldn't you know the motor would back-fire! A light! In the front dormer! He had wakened someone! He hadn't a moment to lose.

With his ears strained to detect pursuit, with his eyes roaming from side to side, Mark shot the car ahead. He went in an opposite direction from that taken by Henri—if the man who had burned up the road making his getaway from the white cottage had been Henri—he wouldn't run the chance of overtaking him. It seemed years before he reached Mike Cassidy's garage at the entrance to the causeway, hours before he could rouse the man, before he partially opened the door.

"Let me in quick, Mike," he whispered to the blinking, cursing proprietor, who was gripping something that gleamed dark and blue and ugly in a hairy, ham-bone fist. "It's only you, Mr. Mark! Thought it might be a hold-up."

Cassidy's lower jaw swung like a gate on loose hinges. He slipped the automatic into his pocket before he rolled back the garage door. "Where can I hide this?"

Cassidy pointed. Not until the limousine was stowed behind a motley collection of broken-down cars did Mark Trent explain.

"I've just rescued the family silver, Mike. The yarn I have to tell you will beat any of the thrillers you get over the radio. Not afraid to keep the car here, are you?"

Cassidy's red-rimmed eyes grew moist. He wiped his nose on a shabby coat sleeve.

"I ain't afraid to do nothing for you, Mr. Mark. You an' your family give me my start; sometimes you've kept me goin' when I didn't know where the next meal was comin' from. I felt mean when I let my Maggie go to work for Mrs. Hunt who treated you so bad, but we needed the money somethin' terrible, so she took the job, though it was at that new fillin' station that's tryin' to put me out of business."

A telephone rang. The two men stared at one another. Mark's blood turned to ice. Cassidy whispered: "Holy mackerel! Who's callin' this time of night? Have they traced you and the silver this quick? Perhaps there's a gang after you!"

Mark nodded toward the telephone. "Answer!" His muscles tensed as he listened.

"Cassidy's garage—You, Maggie! What t'h'll—Stop blubberin'—What! Who?—I can't hear, you're cryin' so—Something terrible?—Never mind, never mind. I'll call police headquarters—You've got to stay there, girl, till I get Bill Harrison. If anyone comes, don't talk. Don't talk!—Sure, I'll come, just as soon as I get the police."

"Mike! What's happened?" Cassidy's face was ashen as he shook Mark's hand from his arm. "Wait!"

He dialed. He spoke into the transmitter. "Someone's hurt bad at the white cottage—that new filling station on the point—Mike Cassidy talkin'—I got to go. You don't understand—my daughter's there—All right. I'll wait here."

He hung up and wiped a grimy hand across his sweat-beaded forehead.

"That was my girl, Maggie, who called."

"Talk, man, talk! What's happened?"

"Someone hurt bad."

"Who?"

"I couldn't make out."

"Someone hurt at the white cottage! But I was there not more than ten minutes ago, Mike."

"If I was you I wouldn't say that, Mr. Mark. It wasn't just hurtin'. I was breakin' it easy. Someone's dead."

CHAPTER IX

"Don't move! I've got you covered!"

In obedience to the hoarse warning, Sam and Brooke Reyburn stood as if turned to stone in the dark hall of Lookout House.

Lights flared. Brooke stared incredulously. Was that Jed Stewart with his hand on the switch glaring at them with wide dilated eyes, with his mouth open as if he had just swallowed a salt wave? That was a flashlight he was pointing at them, not a pistol. It was Jed Stewart without his coat, with his black bow tie under one ear, with only one shoe on.

"For the love of Mike, Jed Stewart, perhaps you'll tell me why you're holding us up in our own house? Why this Public Enemy No. 1 touch?" Sam demanded.

Stewart blinked.

"What are you two doing wandering round this house half dressed at this time of night?"

"Stop shouting, Jed. You'll have Lucette down here," Sam said. "Come into the living room and tell us what you're doing in this house, Jed."

"Let's go to the kitchen instead, more likely to stabilize our emotions," Brooke suggested. "I'll make cocoa and we'll scramble eggs. Jed must need food after the late ex-citement—he's fairly twitching with it—and I feel hollow to my toes. Come on, Sam."

"Sounds okay to me. I'm a growing boy, I need lots of nutriment. You'd better eat, Brooke; you didn't touch a thing when we came back from rehearsal. I'll run up and get a couple of bathrobes. Take these, Jed." He kicked off his slippers. "I'll put on shoes upstairs."

"Perhaps You'll Tell Us How You Got In and Why, Jed?"

Sam followed her into the kitchen. "Sam can be speedy when he wants to be," she admitted, as her brother entered with a lurid bathrobe over his pajamas and another all red and green stripes which he flung at Stewart.

"There you are, m'lady."

"Bring the milk, eggs, butter and bacon from the icebox, Sam. Toss me that apron, Jed, the big white one—that's right. Toast some bread, Sammy."

Soon Sam sniffed. "Doesn't the bacon smell dandy! Here you are, folks." He arranged thin, crisp strips around a mound of fluffy scrambled eggs. "You and Jed sit down, Brooke, and I'll bring the cocoa after I find the marshmallows to drop into the cups."

Brooke slipped off the apron and waited until Sam had served steaming hot cocoa with a little melting white island floating in each cup and helped himself lavishly to scrambled eggs and bacon, before, with elbows on the porcelain table, chin on her clasped hands, she suggested:

"Now that the shock of discovering us roaming round in our own house has somewhat worn off, perhaps you'll tell us how you got in and why, Jed?"

Stewart leaned back in his chair with the air of a man whose appetite has been abundantly satisfied.

Snakes Have Quick Tongues

Garter snakes are among the commonest of our native reptiles. The quick, darting forked tongue gathers many insects for food, which together with frogs, toads, salamanders and worms, forms its principal diet. It is perfectly harmless and of great economic value. It hibernates below the frost line in soft mud or sand and emerges in early spring after being awakened by warming suns

CALIFORNIA News of the Week

Motorists Must Dim Headlights
Sacramento.—Ray Ingels, director of the department of motor vehicles, reminded the State's automobile drivers that it hereafter will be against the law to refuse to dim headlights when meeting another car on the highway. The new law requires that lights equipped with deflectors must be lowered at 500 feet and kept down until an oncoming car has passed.

Find 80-Year-Old Doll

Spanish Ranch (Plumas Co.)—A small rag doll, some child's toy of perhaps eighty years ago, was found here while repairs were being made on an old building. The doll, without its head but dressed carefully in the styles of eighty years ago, was found between the walls. With it were old newspapers, some bearing the dates of 1861.

'Devil's Isle' Plan Dropped

Santa Barbara.—Because of unpopular public reaction to the establishment of a State "Devil's Isle" prison on any of the channel islands, the proposal has been abandoned. This was announced by Edward L. Abbott, member of the California board of prison directors.

Signs Warn Against Liquor

Los Angeles.—Fifty large signs, warning the public against drunken drivers and pleading with motorists to refrain from imbibing while driving, are being placed along southern California highways by the W. C. T. U. of Southern California. The signs were purchased at a cost of nearly $1000.

San Quentin to Have Gas Chamber

San Quentin.—California's lethal gas chamber, replacing hanging for persons convicted of capital offenses, will be at San Quentin prison and not at Folsom, as previously rumored. Total cost of the airtight structure, where slayers will be strapped in chairs and die with a single inhalation of deadly cyanide gas, will be around $16,000.

Yosemite Addition Assured

Washington.—The interior department announced it can proceed immediately with the acquisition of sugar pines of the Carl Inn tract for addition to Yosemite National Park with a $2,005,000 appropriation available for the purchase. Interior officials said that the Yosemite Sugar Pine Lumber Company, which holds title to 6,700 acres of the 7,200 acres in the tract, had promised full cooperation in halting further logging.

Sainthood for Father Serra

Carmel.—Cause for the beatification of Father Junipero Serra, founder of California's missions, to sainthood started with the dedication of the cell at Carmel Mission in which the priest lived and died. Franciscan Father Augustine from Santa Barbara Mission, named by the Franciscan general in Rome as postulator of the beatification cause, directed the dedication of the restored cell of Father Serra. A small band of Indians, survivors of the tribe to which Father Serra once preached, attended the ceremonies.

$8,000,000 For Hospital Building

Sacramento.—State director of institutions Harry Lutgens announced that with the federal allocation of $2,174,000 to California, the State has more than $8,000,000 available for needed construction at the hospitals and other State institutions. Lutgens' figures on contemplated project costs, including both State and federal aid funds, at eight of the institutions are: Agnew hospital, $758,000; Camarillo hospital, $6,626,000; Mendocino hospital, $29,032; Napa hospital, $1,194,000; Pacific Colony, $1,167,000; Stockton hospital, $98,000; Sonoma Home for Feeble Minded, $1,227,000; Yountville Veterans' Home, $353,000.

Forest Fire Loss Drops

A large drop in fire losses in California forests this season as compared to the same period in 1936 was reported by State Director of Natural Resources George D. Nordenholt. Fires to date have totaled 1,494 as compared to 1,723 in 1936, with 39,578 acres being burned over as compared to 127,743. The 1936 damage was estimated at $193,649 and the loss this season set at $56,099. Nordenholt attributed the drop to more favorable weather conditions with an absence of north winds, increased efficiency of the suppression crews and activity on the part of enforcement officers in apprehending those guilty of incendiarism.

Silver Vein Found in S. F.

San Francisco.—Discovery of a rich silver vein on the south limits of San Francisco has been reported by James Bradley, director of the Bradley Mining Company. Claims, located on a twenty acre site, were said to have yielded "typical samples" assaying twenty to forty ounces of silver per ton; 15 to 25 per cent lead and 20 to 25 per cent zinc. It was reported plans have been completed to spend $150,000 on preliminary development work to prove the property.

LESSON IN HONESTY

Father and son were out walking when the father stooped and picked up a rather nicely made man's glove, says Ireland's Own. "There's nothing like honesty," he said to the boy. "I will place it on this railing, and perhaps the owner will return for it."

They continued their walk, but a little while later the man picked up another glove.

"Goodness me," he exclaimed, "This is the neighbor to the other glove!" He tried it on. "And my size, too. Hurry back, sonny, and fetch the other glove."

"Speeding has a big element of danger in it."

"Yes—those confounded cops are everywhere."

Wonder He Could Read

"You're back early, Dave," remarked the farmer's wife.

Dave, who had been to a play in the nearby town for the first time in years, nodded a silent agreement, and proceeded to enjoy a pipe and study his program.

"Enjoy the play?" asked his wife. "No," replied Dave. "Didn't see the end."

"Why not?"

"Well, take a look at the program here. The second act takes place in two years' time."—Pearson's London Weekly.

The Only Spot

"In Heaven's name," asked the prospector, "why did you come out into the middle of this dried up, barren, God-forsaken territory to build a home? There isn't a tree within a hundred miles of you."

"What else could I do? The wife was dead set on learning to drive the car!"—Providence Journal.

Perfection

The young couple sat at a night club table and cooed heavily.

"We could get married easily," whispered the boy. "My father's a minister."

"Okay," returned the girl promptly. "Let's try it. My father's a lawyer."—New York Mirror.

Modern Youth

Did you give Joan that copy of "What Every Girl Should Know?" asked father.

"Yes," replied mother thoughtfully, "and she's writing the author suggesting a couple of dozen corrections and the addition of two new chapters."

Quite

"What does 'superfluous' mean, Ernie?"

"Oh, like the 'will you' in 'will you have a drink?'"

AWAITING THE DIPLOMA

"Highbrow's gotten every honor of the college; his rise has been rapid."

"I should say he's risen by degrees."

Heard in Court

Magistrate—What is the man charged with?

Constable—He is a camera fiend of the worst kind, sir.

Magistrate—But he shouldn't have been arrested just because he has a mania for taking pictures.

Constable—It isn't that, sir—he takes the cameras!

His Fault

An Aberdonian went to Australia. When he returned three years later he found his three brothers, all with beards, at the railway station.

Thought Wields Great Influence in Our Lives

Practically all the ills in life spring largely from our ignorance of the working of mental laws.

Most of us have no idea that thought has more to do with determining our conditions, with shaping our circumstances and environment, bringing us poverty or wealth, attaining our ideal or driving it from us, than any other thing.

Most human beings could be living in comfort and happiness, if they only knew the powers locked up in themselves and had learned the secret of using their minds to back up their efforts on the material plane.

YOU CAN THROW CARDS IN HIS FACE ONCE TOO OFTEN

WHEN you have those awful cramps; when your nerves are all on edge—don't take it out on the man you love.

Your husband can't possibly know how you feel for the simple reason that he is a man.

A three-quarter wife may be no wife at all if she nags her husband seven days out of every month.

For three generations one woman has told another how to go "smiling through" with Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It helps Nature tone up the system, thus lessening the discomforts from the functional disorders which women must endure in the three ordeals of life: 1. Turning from girlhood to womanhood. 2. Preparing for motherhood. 3. Approaching "middle age."

Don't be a three-quarter wife; take LYDIA E. PINKHAM'S VEGETABLE COMPOUND and Go "Smiling Through."

ROCKAWAY BEACH PEDRO VALLEY

"What It Means to Speed" was the substance of a lesson learned recently by Edward McDonald, of Rockaway, when he was tagged on the San Francisco Boulevard for exceeding the speed limit. This young man, in his neat tan-colored coupe, must have fancied he was at Indianapolis, taking part in a national auto race, and beating the other champions to the goal. But, McDonald soon discovered, to his surprise, that this was not the case, when a traffic officer edged him to the side of the road and asked the usual annoying questions. Edward, who is a good loser, at once offered to pay his fine then and there, but the traffic officer thought not. He tagged young McDonald to appear at the proper tribunal, where the judge, beside loading a fine of $7.50 on the speeder, sent him to the official Traffic School for a series of six lessons in "How to Drive a Car Safely." This course was spread out over two weeks, and then McDonald got permission to drive again. Says this young man, with a smile: "I learned my lesson all right. And I hope other fellows who hear about my adventure with the traffic officer will take the lesson to themselves and not drive dangerously. It doesn't pay to speed, whether you get a tag or not."

Annabelle Trogia had her fourteenth birthday on Tuesday. She said she would "celebrate," but she wouldn't have a party. A fuzzy pup was given to Mrs. Bicknell by Pat McCarty. Its name is "Mac." "Pal's" nose is out of joint now. "Mac" is a police dog, and so is the pup lately acquired by the Hector Martins. O. O. McIntyre, the famous columnist, declared once that the police dog is the only breed he doesn't like. An advertisement in a San Francisco daily paper a while ago, read: "Wanted to exchange, a police dog for almost anything." But lots of folks like 'em. They're smart. The two fuzzy pups just mentioned are "cute little guys."

The Clyde Garners' terraced garden is a great success.

The Pedro Improvement dance at Vallemar, which Mr. Garner is getting up, is going to be another big success. Here's hoping. Every member of the Improvement Association got five tickets to sell. Watch them go!

Leo Harris had a birthday recently that was honored by a festive dinner at the home of the Fred Bohrs. Cakes, candles and congratulations were the order of the day. Only a few guests were present.

Little Barbara Martin, daughter of the Hector Martins, enjoyed a birthday last Friday. Her guests were Carol, Billy and Shirley Bryant, of Pedro, Doris and Clarice Swanson, of San Francisco, Mesdames Olmo, Beeler and Barbara's grandmother, Mrs. Pruden. It was a lovely party, and the high point to Carol Bryant was that "they didn't even have to ask you if you wanted some more ice cream—they just put it right on your plate." Barbara received a number of pretty gifts. Clyde Garner was the only boy at the party.

The salmon season is ended, but Jim Stuart says there are plenty of other kinds of fish left in the sea. And there are always hosts of fishermen to come down the coast and take a chance on landing a few. Pedro Valley, Shelter Cove and Rockaway offer splendid fishing and swimming.

And now the children are back to school again, while harried mothers draw deep breaths and relax after the strenuous vacation. One mother, who has several restless youngsters, wondered a week ago, if she could possibly "hold out" until the first day of school.

Merrill Stuart has taken over Billy Bryant's News route. He has twenty subscribers, they say.

Mrs. Blum made "ketchup" last week, and it was so savory that the odor made all good Pedro Valley people sniff and wish they had some.

The next meeting of the Pedro Valley Improvement Association is scheduled to take place September 18, at the little hall back of the Danmann place.

Elwood Macphee and his wife, with Mrs. Chester Macphee, spent part of the holidays at the picturesque old Macphee summer home on San Pedro Terrace.

Mrs. Beck Johnson had her kitchen chimney pipe painted with aluminum paint to preserve it from the weather. Her front gate, too, got a heavy coat of the silvery paint.

Karl Strutz' handsome spitz dog climbed along a plank to the roof, and then hadn't the least notion how to get down. By the time the ground looked good to the dog, he had forgotten the plank. His "folks" were away that day and Mr. Dog paced about on the roof until night came, when the David Clarks got him down.

FARMERS ARE ADVISED TO DO LESS PLANTING

Probable 1938 AAA Conservation Program Requirements Outlined By Officials

California producers of winter wheat and such crops as cotton and sugar beets are advised by the Agricultural Adjustment Administration to consider probable provisions of the 1938 Agricultural Conservation Program in making plans for plantings this fall.

Seedings of soil-depleting crops not to exceed 80 per cent of the 1937 soil-depleting base acreages are suggested by AAA officials. Provision for soil-depleting acreages are expected to be lower in the 1938 program than in 1937.

Most farmers who keep seedings to 80 per cent of the 1937 soil-depleting base should qualify for the 1938 program. However, individual farmers who have large percentages of their crop land in soil-depleting bases will find it necessary to make a greater adjustment in order to meet 1938 program requirements.

Plantings for 1938 of 80 per cent of 1937 soil-depleting bases are suggested at this time to guide farmers who need this information in ad-

Music College Adds To Teacher Corps

New additions to the faculty of Schools of Music and Drama at Golden Gate College in San Francisco announced this week include Naoum Blinder, violinist and concert master of the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra, and Orlando Giosi, first trombone for the San Francisco Symphony. In line with a policy of expansion announced earlier in the season the college is making available to young artists professional training under master teachers.

Frederick Haywood, nationally known voice teacher, who has just completed conducting a master course for singers at the famous Eastman School of Music in Rochester, N. Y., will make a trip to San Francisco from his new studios in Hollywood in order to meet students at Golden Gate College. Mr. Haywood will conduct his first classes of the season at the college Saturday, September 18.

Golden Gate College, a civic and non-profit institution, is operated by the San Francisco Y. M. C. A. and maintained by a Musical Society, including public spirited citizens of the San Francisco Bay region.

BAYSHORE NEWS

Mr. and Mrs. "Red" Parker celebrated their wedding anniversary August 23. Congratulations.

Mrs. G. Andersen returned home, Monday night, from a vacation. A surprise dinner was given to her by her husband and Mrs. J. Marshall.

Marie Masry fell from her bicycle last Saturday and was badly injured. She was taken to the hospital by Mr. Al. Varni and Miss Irene Marshall. Several stitches were taken in her forehead.

Mr. Longwell came from Fort Bragg, where he is working, to spend the holidays with his wife and family.

Mr. and Mrs. George Andersen made a trip to Santa Cruz last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnston are entertaining Mrs. Johnston's mother.

Ladies of the Voter's League spent the luncheon hour together, last Tuesday afternoon, and honored Mrs. Henry Luhrs who leaves Bayshore soon to reside in San Bruno where a new home is being built for her and her husband. A lovely luncheon was enjoyed by some thirty guests. Hostesses for the day were Mrs. Mathew Parker and Mrs. "Mickie" Williams. A love gift of money was given to Mrs. Luhrs to buy what she wished for her new home. Those present were Mesdames Watson, Toich, Cox, Vickers, Arrigeris, Williams, Byrnes, Pasini, Taylor, Dietrich, Filarski, Mardecich, Cordray, Longwell, Percival, Jensen, Priola, Tooth, Hutchings, Weinberg, Luhrs, Andersen, Marshall, Patchen, Smith, Lawson, Parker, Mangels, Caine, McKenzie and Wentworth.

Al Taylor of Bayshore has been granted the contract to install new plumbing in the Bayshore school by the Board of Trustees of the Visitacion School District. Work will begin immediately.

The Bayshore Post of the American Legion met in their hall last Thursday evening.

Bayshore P. T. A. will hold its first yearly meeting next Friday afternoon in the school house. Mrs. Sue Byrnes, president, will officiate. Mrs. Byrnes has been attending the School of Instruction at district headquarters. Mrs. Pasini and Mrs. Filarski also attended. The date of the meeting is September 17. Don't forget.

500 Masked Men Probably Are Liars

The first Labor Day parade in Detroit, Mich., to be held since 1916, consumed an hour to pass a given point.

Marching in the midst of nearly 8000 marchers were 500 men wearing masks. They carried signs which indicated they were employees of Ford Motor Company, who "masked to protect our jobs, our wives and our children."

HOPÍ INDIANS

Among Hopi Indians of the American Southwest, the squaw owns the house furnishings, while the brave owns his personal effects and earnings.

ATTENDANCE AT STATE FAIR IS LARGEST EVER

Sunday Dedicated To American Legion And Educators Of California

can Legion Drum and Bugle Corps won first prize in the musical competition. Fresno Post No. 4 took second; Merced Post, third; Pittsburg Post, fourth.

The Legion Auxiliary of Fresno Post No. 4 took the ladies drill team first prize. Second was Karl Ross Post of Stockton and third, Sacramento Post No. 61.

ATTENDANCE FIGURES

Last year's first Sunday of 91,846 was outdistanced by today's huge attendance. By midafternoon officials estimated 55,000 had passed through the turnstiles. The final tabulation showed an attendance of approximately 100,000.

The total of the two previous days of the fair was 86,000, so that this Sunday exceeded the combined attendance of those two days by several thousand, officials stated.

KEEN COMPETITION

The keenest competition in years featured the schoolcraft contest where elementary and high schools from all parts of the state competed in arts and crafts, cabinet making and domestic science, with Santa Rosa High School first in cabinet making and in foods and nutrition competition.

Sweepstake award first places were given to the Coalinga High School in printing, Kern County Union High School in sewing and home furnishing, Coalinga Junior High School in sewing, Lodi Elementary School in woodworking, and also in arts and crafts.

Watch Blind Walkers Holding White Canes

Motorists are advised by the Public Safety Department of the California State Automobile Association that drivers are held responsible by law for taking all necessary precautions and granting the right of way at all times to blind pedestrians carrying white canes.

The law provides that the driver of any vehicle who approaches a person wholly or partially blind, carrying a white cane or walking stick, or white tipped with red, must immediately come to a full stop and, before proceeding, must take such precautions as may be necessary to avoid injury to the blind person. The use of white canes, or white canes tipped with red, is reserved by law to the blind or partially blind.

The motor will tend to overheat when the radiator becomes clogged with bees, butterflies or other accumulations.

Jeff High School Parent Teachers

The Jefferson Union High School P. T. A. will hold the first meeting of the term in the Little Theater of the school on Wednesday of next week at 2 p. m.

The high school meetings are constructive and sociable. All parents interested in children of high school age are urged to attend these meetings, meet with the teachers and members and hear good speakers.

Dwindling Ranks Of Civil War Veterans

When the seventy-first encampment of the Grand Army of the Republic opened at Madison, Wis., Saturday of last week, fewer than 200 veterans of the war between the States answered the roll call. The opening session of the five-day meeting was given over to religious and memorial services. The principal event was the memorial ceremony, on Saturday evening, in which the theme was the life of Abraham Lincoln.

Many of the veterans attended special church services, then retired to easy chairs while the Woman's Relief Corps dedicated six trees in Vilas Park in honor of the G. A. R. commander in chief, C. H. William Ruhe of Pittsburgh; two past commanders, Lucius Fairchild and A. G. Weissert, and the corps' own past president, Charity Rusk Craig and Belle W. Bliss.

"Although time has thinned your ranks it has not dimmed the glory of your heroism and patriotic devotion," Governor Philip La Follette said in a message of greeting to the veterans.

Jefferson Indians To Play In North

This evening (Friday) the Jefferson Indians travel northward for a night game with Vallejo.

The teams will leave the school in two special buses at about 4 o'clock. The coaches plan to take four teams to Vallejo, two freshman-sophomore teams who will start their game at 6:30, and two varsity teams who will begin play at 8.

Judging from newspaper accounts about Vallejo, and this being the Indians first night game, they possibly will be up against some tough competition. But if the Indians keep up the good spirit and hard playing that was shown last week they have an excellent chance of returning home with a victory.

Soleless Soul

A backwoods woman, the soles of whose feet had been toughened by a lifetime of sholessness, was standing in front of her cabin fireplace one day when her husband addressed her: "You'd better move your foot a mite, maw, you're standin' on a live coal." Help Them Cleanse the Blood of Harmful Body Waste Your kidneys are constantly filtering waste matter from the blood stream. But kidneys sometimes lag in their work—do not act as Nature intended—fail to remove impurities that, if retained, may poison the system and upset the whole body machinery. Symptoms may be nagging backache, persistent headache, attacks of dizziness, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes—a feeling of nervous anxiety and loss of pep and strength. Other signs of kidney or bladder disorder may be burning, scanty or too frequent urination. There should be no doubt that prompt treatment is wiser than neglect. SAMMY JAY TELLS PETER RABBIT HE IS SORRY

When you've done a thing that's wrong Just go and say you're sorry. Don't let an untruth drag along— Just go and say you're sorry. There's nothing else will clear the way, And brighter make the passing day. When you have done or said or thought A thing more unkind than you ought Than just to say you're sorry.

YOU remember how Peter Rabbit could find no one to believe him when he told about the great, strange tracks which he had found in the snow deep in the Green Forest at the very end of winter. Of course you do. And you remember how Sammy Jay had made fun of

"They'll Just Think That We All Three Are Crazy."

Peter and teased him until Peter would hardly put his head outside of the dear Old Briar Patch. Now Sammy was learning just how Peter had felt. To be sure, it was nothing new to Sammy to have people doubt what he said. Usually he wouldn't have minded in the least. But now he had such wonderful news—news

THE DRY AND THE WET

By DOUGLAS MALLOCH

I RECKON the sun never shines for no one. Not ever the whole of the year. There must be some rainin', But why the complainin' Because a few troubles appear. I reckon there never was anyone yet But hadn't seen some of the dry and the wet.

I reckon the rose knows the weather, and knows It needs just a little of both, The sun in its season, The rain for some reason, If roses would git any growth. I reckon a rose in that garden'd die That hadn't seen some of the wet and the dry.

I reckon that man has some sort of a plan For growin', the same as a flow'r, Some day with its sorrow, Some pleasure tomorrow, To help him to grow ev'ry hour. I reckon no rose and no man I have met Who hadn't seen some of the dry and the wet.

Compounding is necessary when "two adjectives, a noun and an adjective, or any two or or parts of speech are abnormally associated" to function as one adjective. The dictionary gives these examples: down-stairs room; dark-brown hair; well-known man; knee-deep snow; free-trade doctrines.

"Ventriloquism" From Latin The word "ventriloquism" comes from Latin "venter" meaning belly, and "loqui," to speak. Thus it was long thought that control of the stomach muscles was necessary to "throw" one's voice. But it is known that the real secret is in controlling one's breath.

Three Maids A-Sewing Go

LITTLE lady, it's time to say adieu, so long, good-by to that flimsy but faithful friend—your summer wardrobe. But don't fret, Milady, Sew-Your-Own is right on the job with sparkling new fashions for you; fashions that will make you forget the past and be remembered in the future. So let's not tarry: let's choose the style that's got the most sock for our particular figure and join this group that's going a-sewing!

Stadium Model.

Picture yourself in the trim-waisted little model at the left, if you would have an optimistic viewpoint and a head start on style this season. There's nothing younger than this topper with its dainty collar and cuffs, its snappy row of buttons and fetching pelum.

Young 'n' Pretty.

Long slender lines of the princess variety make this the lucky number for your first autumn days. Of course you see it's a style to cut in at least two fabrics because it boasts utility plus beauty. If you're going to school you'll want it in acetate jersey or light-weight wool. Neat contrast is here, too, if you wish, in the collar, pocket flaps and buttons. (This is a simple eight-piece pattern.)

A Lift for You.

There's much ado about bodices this fall and unless you have a frock that carries a stylish one you won't feel right. Sew-Your-Own caters to this vogue in its new creation at the right. It is pencil slim and carefully styled to give you that chic young silhouette that distinguishes the lady of fashion. Make this handsome model of silk crepe, sheer wool or jersey and be fit for business or pleasure in town or country.

The Patterns.

Pattern 1376 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 40 bust). Size 14 requires 4 1/4 yards of 35-inch material.

Pattern 1347 is designed for sizes 14 to 20 (32 to 42 bust). Size 16 requires 4 1/4 yards of 35 or 39-inch material. With long sleeves 5 1/4 yards plus 3/4 yard contrasting.

Pattern 1258 is designed for sizes 12 to 20 (30 to 38 bust). Size 14 requires 4 yards of 39-inch material, with long sleeves, plus 4 1/4 yards of braid to finish as pictured.

Conceited Beau Brummell

Beau Brummell (1778-1840), the master dandy of all time, was so idolized by the aristocracy of London as an arbiter of dress and manners that, eventually, he became unbearably conceited. One night he even ordered a duchess out of his house, during a reception, because her "dress was cut too low in the back." The gentleman's taste was so offended that he had to cover his eyes while she humbly backed out of the ballroom.—Collier's Weekly.

Novel Suicide Method

Sunday night of this week, at Los Angeles, Carl D. Yeargin, a North Carolina itinerant machinist decided to die.

He tightly closed the trailer in which he was traveling and arranged an alarm clock to drop poison crystals into a bowl of acid by a trigger and string contrivance at a given time.

While he slept the alarm went off at 2 o'clock a. m. and caused the poisonous fumes to generate and bring death from inhalation.

BRISBANE GENERALITIES

By Phil Sbriglia

Claude Roeder just returned from a hunting trip over the weekend and reports the hunters so thick that it seems to him like being on Market street during the rush hour. Try again some other time, Roeder, and don't forget that we enjoy venison ourselves.

Many happy returns to Floyd Miller of Mendocino street. Just arrived at the 32nd milestone this past weekend. He and his family spent Labor Day at Santa Cruz.

The 3-B Club played bridge at Mother Strassburger's home on Alvarado street this past Monday. The ladies do so enjoy getting together like that.

I see that the Hastings family has returned from their trip to Wyoming and Montana. The vacation sure did them a world of good. They look fine.

The Friday night whist at the Social Club brought out players sufficient to fill 7 tables. The winners were as follows: Earl Coop, Howard Homan, Billie Bennett, Mrs. Mike Igoe, Weston McIntosh, and Bob Bennett.

The two congenial hostesses at the last regular meeting of the Social Club were Mrs. Nora Lothrop and Mrs. Mattson. The winners at cards were Mrs. Strassburger, "Pop" rounds; KO, Ralph Gruman, 1 round; Draw, Roy Moore, 10 rounds; Draw, Eddie McCauley, 10 rounds; Lost on foul, Frankie Malone, 4 rounds; Draw, Joe Azevedo, 10 rounds; Draw, Kid Julian, 10 rounds; Draw, Yankie Rue, 10 rounds; KO, Benny Chavaze, 1 round; KO, Bobby Burns, 4 rounds; Draw, King Leopold, 15 rounds; KO, Jack Douglas, 1 round; Won, Jack Doyal, 6 rounds; Won, Al Nelson, 6 rounds; KO, Lee Snider, 1 round.

Although Mr. Bratton is running a tavern in Brisbane, he still teaches boxing. He has a gymnasium at the tavern with showers, etc. and will be glad to teach anyone the science of boxing.

Drop in at Bratton's tavern and gymnasium, 31 Visitation avenue, Brisbane, and get acquainted with one of the greatest fighters the West has ever produced.

Daws, "Hank" Drummond and Mrs. Helen Fosberg.

The Van Kirk and Coffin families spent Labor Day weekend at their ranch near Santa Rosa.

I see Woodie Detherow sporting a classy looking coupe. Quite an improvement, Woodie. We'd like to ride in it some time.

That little southern gal, Mrs. Robbinette of Alvarado street, has been in bed the past few weeks. Come on and get well, 'cause we all miss you all.

Lou Diel has been laid up for a few days. We are all glad to see you up and around again, Lou.

Jack Blanchard looks and no doubt feels much better these days now that he has found a good steady job. Good luck to you, Jack.

We ought to hold a baby show some one of these days. There have been many new arrivals (brought by old man stork) in Brisbane the past few months. Come on ladies, get together on this.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Range took mom and pop, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Leach of Fort Worth, Tex., to see the State Fair at Sacramento over Labor Day. They all enjoyed it very much.

Jack Kinney and Frank Lamont poured the concrete for the new steps and sidewalk for the Social Club Hall. Keep up the good work, fellers, and some day we will have a club building that all of Brisbane can be proud of.

Yours truly is very proud of his brand new electric refrigerator.

Brisbane was well represented in the Labor Day parade in San Francisco by our many staunch union men.

Mr. and Mrs. Ira White left for Arkansas, this past weekend, to spend a few weeks with Ira's folks. It's their first visit home in seven years. They are motoring back.

The finance committee of the tennis court fund met Tuesday, September 7, at 7:30 p. m., at the home of Ione Kinney. Tickets were counted and results of the proceeds of the dance, held Saturday, September 4, at the Firemen's Hall, were noted. Ione Kinney was chosen chairman; Francis McKinney, secretary and treasurer; Al Lothrop and Phil Sbriglia, aids de camp. Plans were set for a monster whist to raise further funds to help complete that contemplated project. Date for this whist will be announced later. The committee voted to extend to Ed Morley a world of thanks for the hard work he put in to get this project started. With the help of all the citizens of Brisbane this idea can, and will, be carried out to a successful conclusion.

Don't forget the ham dinner given by the ladies of the Social Club on Sunday, September 19. The dinner bell will ring at 1 p. m. sharp. The eats will be served 'till 3 p. m. Don't miss it, for, as you know, the ladies are sure fine cooks. Helen John is chairman of this dinner. Don't forget the date. There will be music and dancing, both afternoon and evening.

According to the latest report, Ray Grigsby is recovering nicely from his injury sustained a few weeks ago at his work. We all wish you well, Ray, and hope to see you around soon.

"Dot" Mundersbach is up and around again after a few days illness. "Maw" Lamont took good care of her. Glad to see you around again, Dot.
